HE Japan Mail still Montains its agitation for the abolition of exterptorulity. In its issue of the 12th May an article on the subject, ably written, as most articles in the same journal are, but not altogether publication :temperate in its tone. It is to be regretted that the strong personal hostility existing between the Yokohama papers should render fair-minded and impartial discussion of any question affecting Japan almost a thing unknown in their columns. In the article in "her [Japan's] maligners and ours," which at once gives the key, to the feeling of in- honour to be, Sir, your most obedient servant, tense irritation perceding the article. The argument is directed to demonstrate what the writer considers the untenability of the position taken up by the opponents of the abolition of exterritoriality, together with an both Western in Elestern national reputations -- to take up such a position. Side by side with this article is another one, on the missionary question in Japan. Unfortunately for the argument in the former, the latter code. The civil and criminal codes of desired, but of what avail are they if those who are to administer them have no moral code to guide them? The Mail, in its writings on exterritoriality, deals too much with theory and too little with facts. The simple question is whether Japan has as yet proved the Becreation Club was held in the Club Burdon, Bishop and Mrs. herself worthy of such confidence as would native tribunals jurisdiction over their nationals. To this question there can be only one answer. Greatus has been the progress $873.93 last year. The Chairman contratulated Brackenbury, Capt. and of Japan, it is but a thing of yesterday; the the Club on the prosperous state of its finances, new institutions, new modes of thought, and new aspirations which have been planted in in better repair than they had been before, Ball, D. THE Hawaiian papers received yesterday by mittel among the former class when they could Foster, Mr. and Mrs. P. the steamer Ehrenfels explain the telegram received about a month ago stating that Chinese immigrants had been prohibited from landing at Honolulu. The influx of Chinese created alarm in Hawaii, which resulted in the prohibition. The population of the islands is now about two-sevenths Rice husks had been used in Germany with very Chinese, and at the rate the immigrants satisfactory results, and he recommended that the Gubbay, Mrs. were pouring in it was feared that by January next three-eighths of the population would bought at from 50 to 70 cents a pionl, so that Gage, A. The Hawaiian Government are anxious to secure immigrants; but they do not wish them to be all Chinese, especially Mr. Boning should be added to the committee Hazeland, Chinese males only, as hitherto has been the especially to look after the Gymnasium. Mr. Hazdand, J. I. case. Writing on the question, the Hono- vote of thanks to the Chairman concluded the Julu Saturday Press says :- " If some day proceedings.

But the con- by Chinese. 'flict of interests must some day come if "the friends of the Chinese and the friends of Hawaii nei do not agree upon some plan " whose warp and woof shall be neither sen-"timent nor greed." This is a moderate expression of opinion, considering how strong American interests are in Hawaii, and how considerably the Californian policy has influenced feeling on the subject in Hawaii-Meantime we note the Hawaiian Government have been busy seeking fresh supplies of immigrants from other countries. The German steamer Ehrenfels carried to in Madagasonr. Honolula no less than 797 German immigrants from Bremen, of whom 280 were children, showing that these immigrants were in families, the sort of population most desired in Hawaii. The British steamer Abergeldie also arrived in Honolulu on the 3rd May from St. Michael's with 941 Portuguese immigrants. of whom the large majority were married couples with their families. These immigrants made a very favourable impression on the residents, and are described as clean. bright featured, and neatly, dressed people

Portuguese immigrants appear to be greatly appreciated in Hawaii, and got on very well, the climate suiting them admirably, Dancing under pankahs commenced about ten Rice, H. The problem of how to supply the place of the aborigines-who are slowly dying outis a diffigult one to solve, but the Caucasian the islands become a Chinese colony pure and

THE ORDER AND CLEANLING IS BILL. The ATTORNEY-G ON WILL moved the second reading of the Order and Cleanliness Bill. Hon, F. He said he had just had the Bill translated into Chinese, it would appear in the Gazette of Saturday, and as it was a measure which concerned the Chinese he would like to consult them upon it. This could only be done after it was printed. The second reading was postponed until the next meeting.

THE MEDICAL REGISTRATION ORDINANCE. The ATTORNEY-GENERAL -I have to move hat this Bill be read a second time. It won'd parhaps be convenient to explain what those amendments are. The 11th and 12th sections provide for the obtaining of registration by the submission of cortain doonmentary evidence to the Colonial Secretary, and, in section 13, to the Medical Board, but under the oiccumstances I think it would be more convenient if the Medical Board were substituted for the Colonial Secretary in sections 11 and 12. There will be an appeal in all cases, as provided by the Ordinance, to the Governor in Connoil, if any person applying shall not be satisfied with the decision of the Medical Board.

The COLONIAL SECRETARY seconded the second reading. The Council then went into Committee upon

In section I the 1st July was inserted as the date of the commencement of the Ordinance. On section 2, which, as printed, provided that the Ordinance should not apply to Chinese practitioners confinin : their practice exclusively to Chinese patients, the Colonial Treasures moved that the words "confining their practice exclusively to Chinese patients" be omitted. He said there was a very large class of the poorer Portuguese who were attended almost entirely by Chinese doctors, and they paid them very small sums for such attendance. They got a prescription for which they paid perhaps a few cents, and they paid a few cents more for the material, which they made up themselves. It would be a distinct hardship to these people to take a way from them this, the only medical attendance they had. Without having the whole sale horror of Chinese doctors which some people had be thought no one would go to a Chinese doctor who could get a better one, but still there were some who could not afford to do so, and in the interest of that class of Portuguese patients P. Ryrie objected to the power given to the who could not afford to go to a European medical practitioner he would move the omission of the words "confining their practice exclusively to Chinese patients." . He thought this would not do any harm, as no one would go to a Chiness doctor except those who could not afford to go to a European practitioner,

HIS EXCELLENCY—I can give my testimony to the contrary. There are some Chinese doctors in Australia, and some white men prefer them to European doctors. One very rich man told me a Chinese doctor saved his life after all the white doctors had given his case up:

As he had already said, the difference between registration and non-registration would contle the public to judge adequately of the qualifications of the medical men they went to for advice. To do more than that would, he thought, lead the Conneil into injustice. He therefore thought an unregistered person ought not to be precluded from recovering fees.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL suggested that the question of the retrospective effect of the Ordin. ance ought to be dealt with afterwards, a clause being added providing that it should not that proposal, and since then the solicitors to be retrespective in its effect, if the Council

There seems to have been a hot fight and a terrible struggle100, or a fifth, killed or disabled. Among those killed were the following officers: --Commandant-in-Chief Rivière.

Commandant de Villers. Captain Taquin. Lieutenaut de Brésis. Emiga de Moulin.

Five or six other officers were more or less severely wounded, from sixteen to twenty soldiers were killed on the spot, and from 40 to 50 more were wounded, of whom three died shortly after reaching Hanoi, Commandant de Villers lingered. for some six hours after reaching Hanoi.

Commandant Rivière was killed whilst endesvouring, with several of his officers to recover one of the game, a Hotchkiss, which it appears had been deserted by the soldiers. It seems that several wounded French soldiers fell alive into the hands of the Black Flag band, and what their fate must have been you can imagine from the following too true story :--

Three days before the engagement just recorded, the French Mission just outside Honoi was attacked at nine o'clock in the evening by the Black Flage. The missionaries, aided by five men-of-war's man, made a beautiful stand latter, to revenue their failure, then attacked the houses on the missionary compound surrounding the Mission station itself, and out off the noses and ears, and pierced the eyes of all the unfortunate Catholic women and children that hended. were left in them. All this happened within twenty minutes' walk of the French Concession at Hanoi.

Hanci at this date presents a truly deserted and miserable apparance. The district surrounding the Concession, consisting of European, Chinese, and Annumite houses, has been partly burned down, partly blown up by mines, in order to give full play and room for the gans on board the men-of-war. Of all the inhabitants of Hanoi there are searcely 2,000 now in town, and it is impossible to get any provisions, even eggs. and fowls being unobtainable.

POLICE COURT. Slat May.

BEFORE CAPT. H. G. THOMSETT, R.N. LARCONICH Mok Asing, coolie empolyed at the Aberdeen Dock, was charged with the theft of some copper nails from the ship Combridge, now under repair there, on the 30th ult. The defendant said the nails stuck to his hat as he was at work, but he was nevertheless sentenced to a month's hard labour. Kwan Amin, coolie, was brought up on a charge r. of stealing two boxes containing money and olothing, together of the value of about $190, on the 30th nlt Ng Chung Lam, a trader residing on the Prays West, said that on Wednesday evening he went out to visit a friend who resided on the opposite | Tuside of the passage in which he live !. He found his friend's door looked, could hear some one in the house, and saw that the look was outside The the door. This made him suspicious of something wrong, and he went on to his verandah, and called to his friend. The individual made a search and found the prisoner in a room where he kept some money and clothes in two small boxes. He called for help and the man was arrested, and it was then found that he had removed the boxes to another part so as to be handy to carry off. The man had evidently got into the house by means
